BIOLOGICAL/CHEMICAL WARFARE

French Reveal BW Plans to 1970: In a lengthy and detailed report, the French have described a comprehensive BW program to 1970. For each laboratory involved in BW work, a program was given which included objectives, physical expansion and personnel increase with numbers of professionals and non-professionals. In some laboratories, there was a doubling of construction and personnel. The program was varied and extensive.

"In addition, those laboratories engaged primarily in biological warfare research will have to envisage the establishment of small operational units to which the future technicians specialized in the practical application of biological warfare will come and acquire the basic training indispensable for carrying out their functions."
